Forensic Assessment

The aim of the forensic assessment is to conduct a scientific assessment into allegations of sexual abuse, physical abuse, emotional abuse and trauma with children under the age of 18. The process that is followed is set out below:

- Pre-Forensic Assessment of the child which involves a holistic evaluation of all the areas of functioning, systems, and significant others with whom the child is involved in.
- A history-free process is followed.
- Forensic Assessment will then be conducted if abuse was disclosed during the pre-forensic assessment.
- Collateral investigation after the forensic assessment.
- A comprehensive report is included.
