Socio-Emotional Assessment

The aim of the socio-emotional assessment is to take a holistic look at your child's functioning in all areas. Areas that will be evaluated include amongst others:

- School and peer relationships;
- Relationships with parents and siblings;
- Child's experience of marital relationship of parents;
- Relationships with other significant people;
- Relationships in which the child might be experiencing discomfort;
- Attachment;
- Broad screening of perceptual and motor functioning;
- Screening for possible exposure to trauma including physical and/or sexual abuse;
- Personal functioning and Temperament.
